Today+™ Advanced

AskCody® Today+ Advanced lets you display daily activities and schedule events directly on the digital door sign and makes it easier than ever to optimize your meeting room utilization.

Fully integrated and synchronized digital meeting room signs makes it easy to find unoccupied meeting rooms and can prevent meeting interruptions and booking misunderstandings from happening.

With AskCody® Today+ Advanced, we have taken the meeting room booking experience to a new level and implemented new features to help you get more out of your meeting rooms.

On-screen confirmation enhances meeting room utilization instantly. No more “no shows”!

When the meeting is about to start, the status of the room changes to pending. You simply tap the screen to confirm that the room belongs to you. If the meeting finishes early, you can easily end it and the room is released and free for use by others.

If no confirmation is received during a certain period (before or after) the meeting is due to start, the room is released for use by everyone else in your organization, no matter if they book from the screen or from Outlook.

When the meeting room is busy, extend or end your meeting directly from the screen.

Sometimes meetings take longer than you expect. If you need extra time, just go to the meeting room screen, see for how long the room is still available, and extend the meeting with as much time as you need.

Likewise, if you finish your meeting early, just go to the meeting room screen and end the meeting. Someone else can then make use of the space and you maximize utilization of the room.

Eliminate wasteful use of meeting rooms. Optimize meeting resources now!

An intuitive interface enables employees to use Today+ Advanced immediately, and no additional software needs to be installed.

Today+ Advanced will increase business efficiency, reduce costs, and optimize meeting resources.
